Personalised sachets by Nutrined

Dear Nutrined supporters,

Hopefully you are well and manage to slow down slightly to spend some time to enjoy the summer months.

A lot amongst us are used to having a busy day-to-day schedule, but during summer holidays we tend to be in motion even more. Our health and medical needs however remain the unchanged.

At Nutrined we are constantly contemplating how to make functional medicine, in the most literal sense possible, truly functional – for the prescriber as well as patient. It is for this reason that we happily introduce you to our latest concept: Individual Nutritional Support.

Individual Nutritional Support

Simply put, Individual Nutritional Support is about preparing nutritions in a personalised and efficient way. This meaning that in a machine operated manner, we manage to create a unique sachet that contains the supplements that the particular patient is supposed to intake on each specified day.

Benefits

Throughout the years we have noticed that the intake amongst the elderly and in terms of polymedication (intake of multiple supplements) is remarkably more challenging. Keeping the importance of consistency in mind, this is a problem. The pre-made sachets therefore allow the patient to accurately check whether or not they have already taken their daily dose. Yet besides the obvious convenience and hygiene benefits, this formula also has financial advantages: the patient no longer has to commit to full jars that will eventually go to waste. But perhaps the most important advantage is that doctors can closely monitor whether the patient's unique treatment is being followed up correctly and is successful.

Practical

In practical terms, for the fractionation method, the patient pays per pill plus an additional 5 euros each week for operational and logistic support. We ask you to fill in the attached orderform with the patient's personal details, daily dose and duration (minimum 1-month try-out).

Two weeks before the end of the set period, our team will reach out to ask if you wish to extend or adjust: adjustments to the current formula may be required for optimal results.

In case of questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Best wishes,
Nutrined
